Headteacher's Introduction

Dear all,

Another busy week in school and only one more to go until half term. It has been Children's Mental Health Week and the children had a special assembly today based on that. Next Wednesday we have our SIAMS inspection. You will have received communication about this earlier today. We are looking forward to welcoming the inspector, showing off our wonderful school and telling him how proud we are of the impact that our Christian vision and values have on the children's learning.

Have a wonderful weekend,
Mrs Durham.

Great Athlete Event

On Wednesday 26th February we will be welcoming a Paralympian into school.

Sean Gaffney has competed in both the Invictus and Commonwealth Games and has won a number of medals.

He will run fun, sponsored events with the children.

More information and sponsor forms will be sent home next week.

This week, reception have been learning to double in Maths. We read the story Double Dave to introduce the concept of doubling and we know that double means you have twice as many as a number or amount. We used butterflies and pom poms to double our numbers and mirrors to explore doubling even further. Can you find any examples of doubles at KS1 have had a busy week! We've started to plan our own African folk tales in English. We've got a giraffe with a short neck, an owl with no feathers and a lion who can't roar! I'm looking forward to reading the children's completed folk tales next week! In D&T, we have continued working on our hand puppets and have now joined these together using a running stitch or glue.

Year 2/3

On Monday we had a whole day of French. We wrote our own children's story in French based on the book 'Je m'habille et je te croque' about a wolf getting dressed. The children thought up their own character and outfit and produced some brilliant books. Some of the children were even brave enough to read their stories out to the whole class.

Year 4/5/6

Wow! What a busy week! In Science we have been blown away by the growth spurts of both Agnes (the amaryllis) and our many French Bean plants. We carefully measured the latter and updated our observations sheet. We also carried out an investigation into how water is absorbed by, and transported around, plants - using celery and food colouring! Ask your child what we discovered! In Maths we perfected our Fractions Decimals Percentage knowledge by playing fantasy creature Top Trumps. All Y456 children brought home a set of the cards earlier this week so prepare to be challenged to a game! In English we completed our own wonderful versions of a key 'Inside the worm' scene, expertly building suspense and tension and 'showing not telling' how the main character was feeling. The story is becoming more and more gripping and we're excited to hear its conclusion next week! In Life Skills (and as part of Mental Health Week), we had a great discussion about all of the things in life that make us truly happy - from camping under the stars to watching clouds, from movie nights with Mum to and enjoying cuddles with our baby brother! We then reflected all of those things in art. In Topic we completed our Anne Frank fact files and are all set to move on to our next heroine: Emmeline Pankhurst. If anyone is midway through a home learning activity, please try to complete it this weekend and then bring (or email) it into school next week so we can share and celebrate it together. Thankyou and happy weekend all!
